Profile

I'm a Full Stack Web Developer with a hospitality background and a passion for web development. My experience in hospitality has cultivated teamwork, customer service, and leadership skills. I recently completed a web development bootcamp, gaining hands-on experience in web app development. I'm looking to merge my past experiences with web development to craft user-friendly online experiences and contribute to innovative projects.

Full Stack Web Development bootcamp

Ironhack

07/2023 – 09/2023 | Remote London

I've had the opportunity to work with a variety of web development tools and technologies, including JavaScript, React, Node.js, Express, MongoDB, Mongoose, HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, and Tailwind. Through hands-on project work, I've had the chance to improve my problem-solving skills and collaborate effectively within teams. This experience has also allowed me to build a solid foundation in web development principles.
